Overview

Strategy

- Build a significant cashflow generating full-cycle E&P company and deliver value to shareholders
- Grow production and reserves through exploration and value accretive M&A

Longboat entering major growth phase

- Large Norwegian gas prospect, Velocette, drilling expected July/August 2023
- Awards in core areas as part of Norwegian APA 2022 licensing round, one firm well
- High-impact entry into Malaysia via MBR 2022, multi-tcf opportunity with low initial cost commitment

Actively pursuing M&A opportunities

- Announced transformational transaction to create a new Norwegian JV together with JAPEX
- Targeting production and development opportunities in Norway and SE Asia
- Leverage highly regarded organisation, network and prior track record

Strong financial support

- Existing cash and capital injection on completion of Norwegian JV transaction will create significant headroom
- JAPEX to provide the Norwegian JV company with US$100 million financing facility
- Expanded NOK 800 million Norwegian Exploration Facility (£65 million)
- · Strong institutional shareholder base

Strong commitment to ESG

Delivering energy responsibly

- · Subsea satellite developments to reduce emissions per boe
- Exploration success crucial to reducing CO₂/boe through maximising throughput over mature infrastructure

Natural gas increasingly seen as important 'bridge fuel'

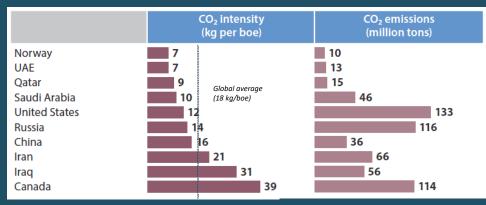

- E&P companies have an essential energy transition role
- · Longboat's targets are gas weighted

The Norwegian industry is committed to make positive contribution to energy transition:

- Norway values strong ESG commitments
- Hydroelectric power-from-shore to reduce offshore CO₂ emissions
- Floating wind farm (Hywind Tampen) to power offshore platforms
- Northern Lights project to provide infrastructure for CO₂ storage and sequestration

Longboat has a strong commitment to the energy transition and ESG

A transformational deal in Norway

Transformational transaction to create a new Norwegian JV

- JAPEX to become 49.9% shareholder in Longboat's Norwegian subsidiary
- Regulatory approvals granted completion expected in July

Initial investment of up to US$50 million

- Initial cash consideration of US$16 million
- Contingent consideration of US$4 million linked to completion of a production acquisition under review
- Up to US$30 million linked to Velocette exploration success (drilling Q3-23)

JAPEX to provide JV with US$100 million financing facility

- 5-year facility available to finance acquisitions and development costs
- All-in interest cost over the term of loan <10%

JV to pursue a growth-led strategy

- Target development projects and reach significant production in 3-5 years
- Continue to drilling of 1-to-3 exploration & appraisal wells per year

JAPEX at a glance

Japan Petroleum Exploration Co., Ltd (JAPEX) founded in 1955 by Japanese government – reorganised as a private entity in 1970

- Listed on the Tokyo Stock Exchange (m/cap ~US$1.8 billion¹)
- Major shareholder: Minister of Economy, Trade and Industry of Japan (35%)
- Proved reserves (2022/3): 159 mmboe
- Production (FY22): 58,500 boepd
- Net Sales (FY22): ¥249,140 million (~US$1.9 billion²)
- Investment Grade Credit: Moodys (Baa1, Stable), R&I (A+, Stable)

Combination of domestic and global E&P operations

- Active regions include Japan, US, Indonesia, Iraq and UK
- Technically focused organisation with +1600 staff

Shared focus on delivering energy responsibly

- Target 40% reduction of Scope 1+2 emissions intensity by 2030 (vs 2019)
- Net zero target for JAPEX group operations by 2050

Business Foundation

* CCS/CCUS network that connects multiple CO2 emission sources and CO2 storage sites

Key benefits for Longboat

Significant upfront capital injection with no dilution for Longboat shareholders

- Transaction structured as an investment directly into Norwegian subsidiary
- Two additional contingent payments linked to near-term events

Transaction enables Longboat to retain exposure to asset base with significant upside

- Upcoming catalysts include firm exploration wells (Velocette Q3-23, Lotus H2-24)
- Kveikje planning underway as part of area-wide "Ringvei Vest" project seeking to capture ~250 mmboe¹
- Recent asset sales in Norway (e.g. Wellesley) demonstrates attractiveness of Longboat's core acreage position

Substantial follow-on financing commitment allows JV to actively pursue growth ambitions

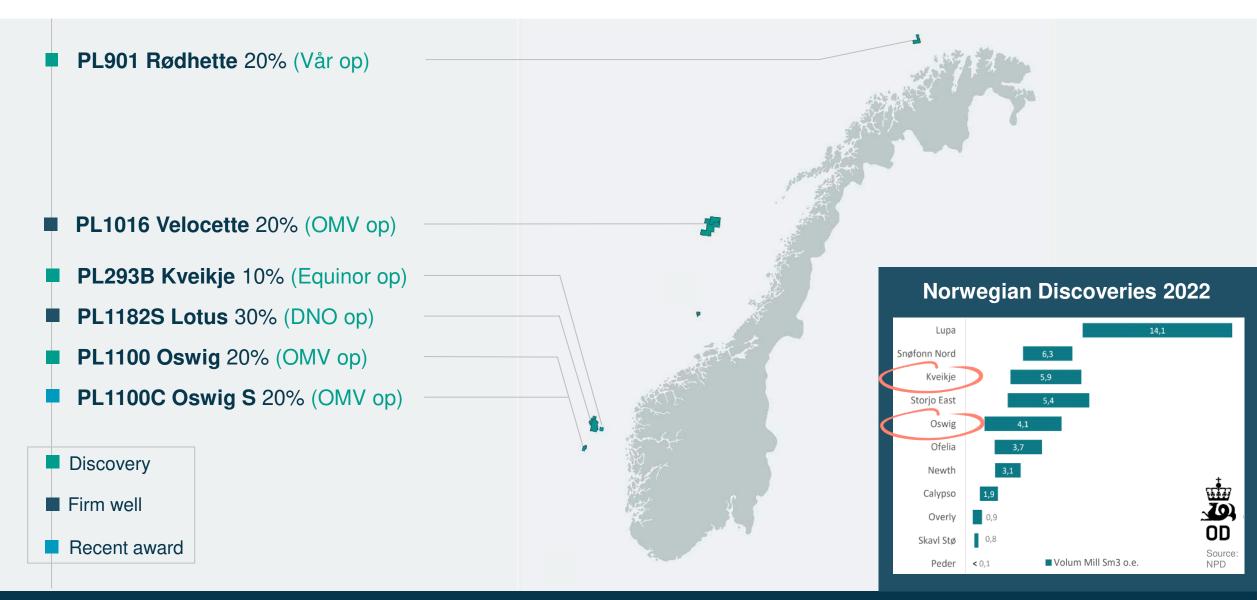

- Ability to transact from a position of strength
- Acquisition financing facility secured at competitive pricing

JV brings together two companies with complementary strengths

- Longboat has significant Norwegian experience, expertise and strong local industry relationships;
- JAPEX has significant world-wide technical competence and a strong balance sheet.

Firm wellPotential well

Norway Asset Focus: Velocette

Setting

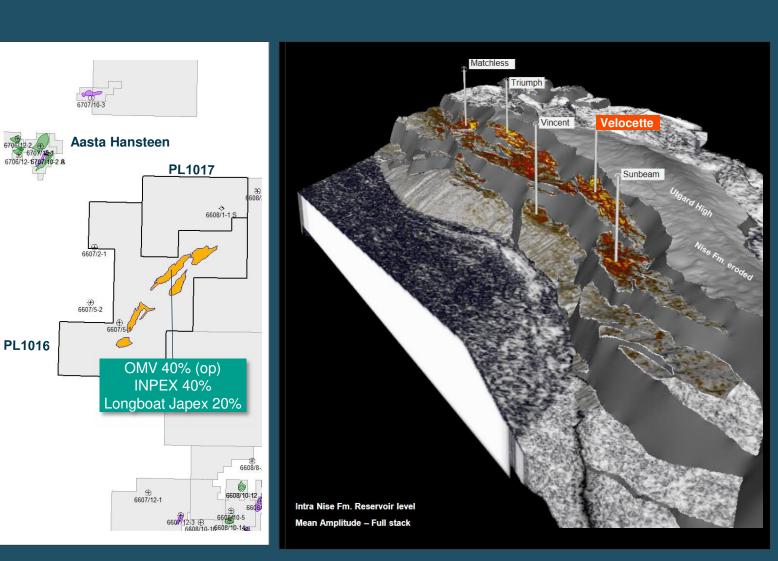

- Cretaceous turbidite sands
- Large fault blocks
- Amplitude supported gas prospect

Volumes & Risk

- Gross mean 177 mmboe¹⁾
- Chance of Success: 30%¹⁾
- Key risk(s): reservoir presence and quality

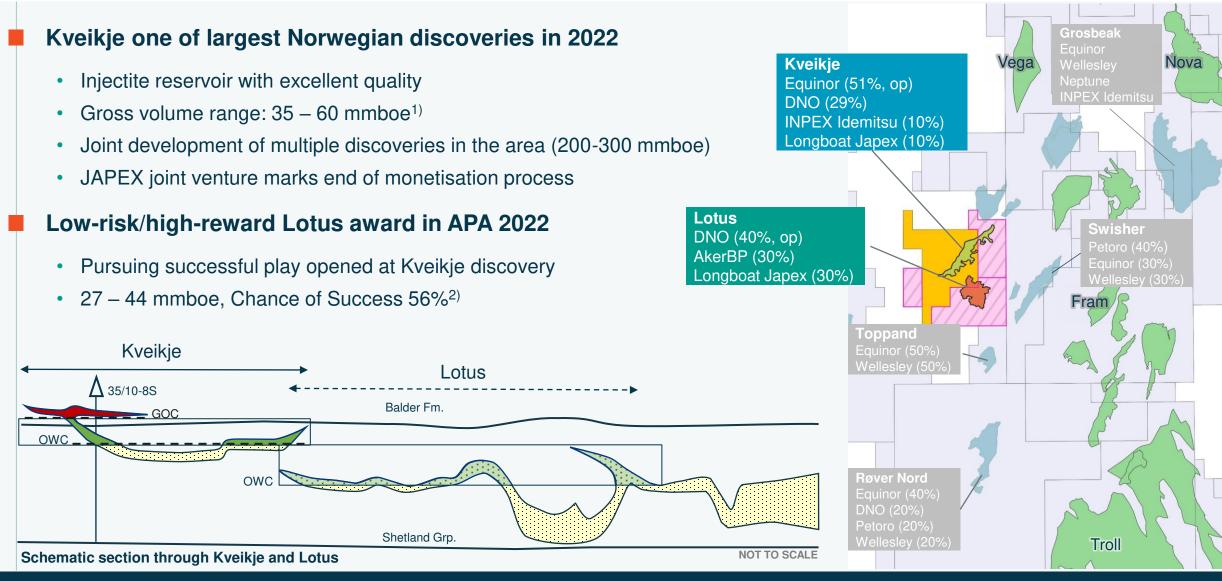

Update

- ~200 mmboe follow-on potential in adjacent fault blocks
- Derisked by initial exploration well
- Tie back to Aasta Hansteen (45 km)

Norway Asset Focus: Greater Kveikje Area

1) ERCE Competent Persons Report 2C-3C September 2022

Norway Asset Focus: Oswig Area

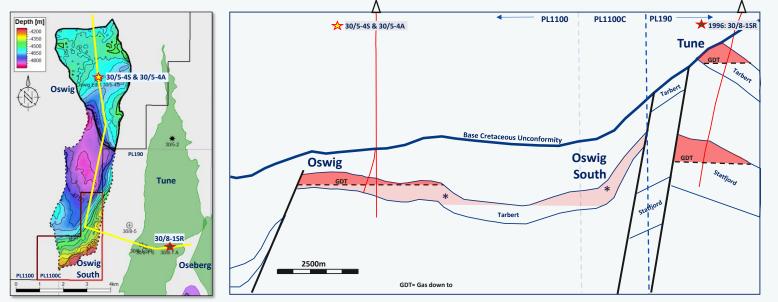

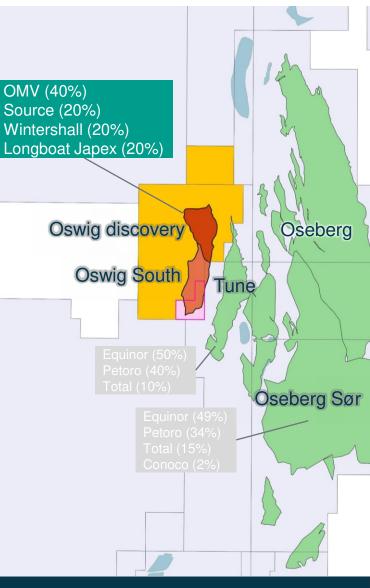

Oswig, HPHT discovery adjacent to giant Oseberg field

- Successful side-track and production test (DST) in late 2022
- Very large Gas In Place Volumes (GIIP): 100-215 mmboe¹⁾
- · Focus on technologies to maximise recovery factor

Oswig South: low risk prospect, potential to double Oswig size

- Significantly shallower than Oswig expected better reservoir quality
- Low commitment, to be matured alongside current Oswig studies

Norwegian JV strategy

Predominately development-led strategy to grow 2P reserves and reach significant production levels within 3-5 years

- Strategy to be delivered through one-or-more acquisitions
- Preference for 10-30%, non-operated interests
- Target straightforward projects (e.g. subsea tie-backs)
- Norwegian tax system provides downside risk protection

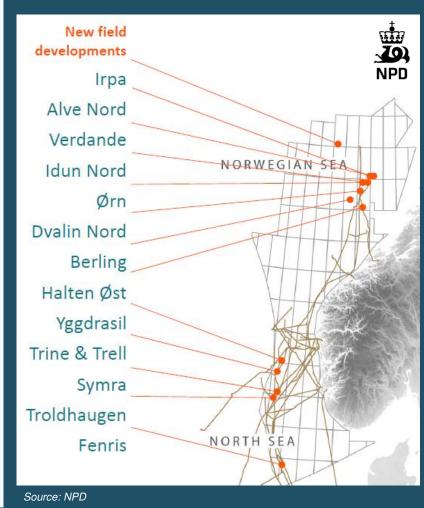

High level of field development activity in Norway represents significant M&A opportunity

- COVID-era tax incentives have resulted in record number of PDOs submitted (field development plans)
- Total associated capex spend of $29 billion¹ likely to result in divestments

Continue to drill 1-3 E&A wells per year

- Norway delivering +30 E&A wells p.a., high success rates and low finding costs
- JV retains existing attractive exploration targets (Velocette and Lotus) and appraisal opportunities (Oswig)
- Continued opportunities in APA licensing rounds and farm-out market

Malaysia: Kertang prospect

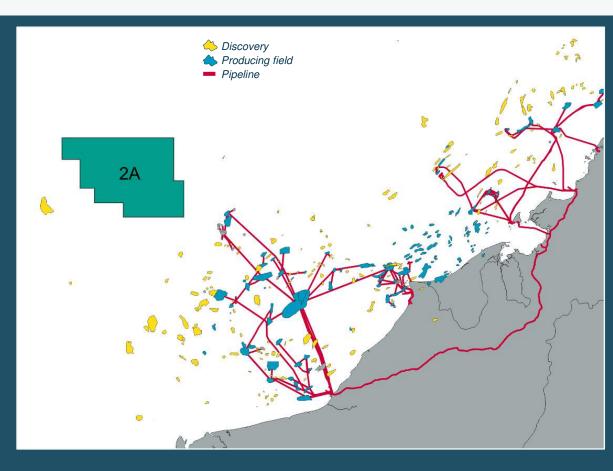

SK2A is a large exploration block offshore Sarawak

- Operated by Longboat (36.75%)
- Partners Petronas Carigali (40%), Petros (Sarawak State-owned company 7.5%) and Topaz (15.75%)
- Low-cost initial work phase (3 years), with firm well in 2nd phase

An undrilled giant

- License covers 12,000 sq km offshore Sarawak in North Luconia Province
- Very prolific area with large on-going developments
- Huge prospect: four-way dip closure over 220 sq km
- Multi-TCF potential in stacked Kertang prospect, excellent 3D seismic data

Malaysia strategy

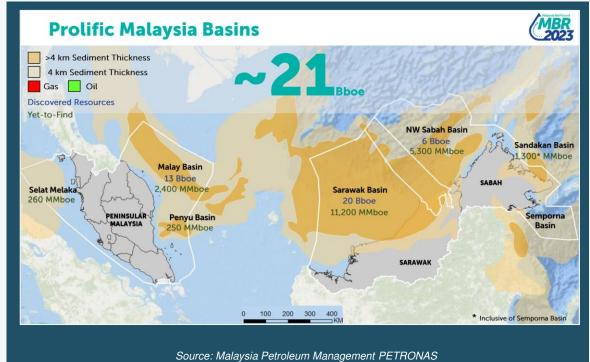

Why Malaysia?

- Opportunity set comparable to the North Sea 15-20 years ago
- Significant prospectivity, fallow discovery backlog
- Strong, supportive regulator looking to establish new players

Longboat entered Malaysia in Q1-23 via licencing round

Strategy focused on building a full cycle business

- Exploit changes underway in the Malaysian upstream industry
- Add production and/or developments with low capex & short lead times
- Exploit innovative M&A experience and network to target growth

Summary

Corporate vision

- Build a significant, cashflow generating, full-cycle E&P company
- Grow production and reserves through exploration and M&A
- Execute innovative deals to deliver the strategy
- Deliver shareholder value

Longboat entering major growth phase

- Norway
 - New JV brings significant financial capacity to deliver attractive acquisitions
 - Progressing Kveikje towards concept select as part of large Ringvei Vest project
 - Velocette drilling expected Jul/Aug, Lotus drilling in 2024
- SE Asia
 - Entry into Malaysia complete
 - High-impact, multi-TCF exploration opportunity at low initial cost
 - Focused on adding production/development assets in region

Maintain strong financial foundation

- Activities fully funded, including all well commitments
- JAPEX finance facility positions JV to deliver on Norwegian strategy
